

Gaia Ritual for Earth Healing

by: Arlais

This is a ritual to Gaia, Goddess of the Earth and creates healing energy for the Earth

Altar set up.

The altar is decorated with flowers, fruits, bright coloured candles and ribbons, with items to represent all the seasons of the year.

Please bring a crystal

We stand together in a beautiful meadow at the foot of a large hill. The sun is shining and the weather is warm. Delicate flowers bloom amongst the grass and everywhere is the sound of birds singing and bees buzzing. The air is delicately scented with the perfume of the honeysuckle that rambles over the hedgerows of beautiful, pale pink dog roses.

By the powers of Air, I begin the circle, by the powers of Fire, I summon the circle, by the powers of Water I complete the circle, by the powers of Earth, the circle is complete.

Please call the quarters.

Hail to thee guardians of the watchtowers of the East, the Powers of Air. Autumn winds of warm gales and chilly nights. Clearing away old thoughts and habits. Help us to listen to the voice within and heed it's wisdom. We bid thee hail and welcome

Hail to thee guardians of the watchtowers of the South, the Powers of Fire. Autumn fires of fallen leaves. Burning away the old debris. Spark the flame within us and show the way to inner knowledge and wisdom. We bid thee hail and welcome

Hail to thee guardians of the watchtowers of the West, the Powers of Water. Autumn brook with crisp waves flowing. Flow within to cleanse away what is no longer needed. Help us to find the right course to inner strength and wisdom. We bid thee hail and welcome

Hail to thee guardians of the watchtowers of the North, the Powers of Earth. Autumn leaves with red and golden hues. Bringing forth the transformation of life. Guide us towards the inner transformation of the mysteries and wisdom. We bid thee hail and welcome

Hail to thee Mother Goddess Gaia, Lady of the Earth. We welcome thee to our circle this night to raise energy for the Earth. We bid thee Hail and Welcome!

Today we come together to raise healing energy for Mother Earth. We recognise the damage caused by mankind and are gathered to help redress the balance both in ritual and through our actions. I ask you to join me in a visualisation.

We notice an opening in the foot of the hill leading deep into the ground. It looks welcoming and we feel drawn towards it. As we enter we become aware of a golden glow ahead of us, lighting our path. It gives us a sense of love and comfort and we move towards it, travelling deeper and deeper inside the Earth. As we walk we become aware of a steady beat that grows louder with each turn of the tunnel. We realise that it is the sound of the heart of Mother Earth.

We emerge into a cavern that appears to be formed of polished obsidian, a solid, shiny black that reflects the golden glow. Here and there are brightly coloured crystals, - sparkling and shining against the black. In the centre of the cavern is a pool, the water appearing black as ink and perfectly still. We move towards it and look into the dark still waters. Images form, pictures of a beautiful, unspoilt landscape, of Earth as it was before it suffered at the hands of man, and then images of destruction, of forests cut down to fuel man's greed; of green land become desert; of waters polluted and dead; and finally pictures of hope, of areas reclaimed and restored. We marvel at the scenes before us, sad that so much has been damaged, yet knowing that all is not yet lost, that the destruction can be reversed.

We sense movement at the far side of the chamber, and look up to see the Lady Gaia coming towards us. She is dressed in robes of green and smiles at us. She is pleased that we have made this journey.

She raises her arms and creates a large ball of glowing energy, an energy of healing. It hangs in the air above us, pulsing and waiting.

Add your healing energy to this ball. Watch it grow and expand as we increase the power within it, until it fills the entire chamber, surrounding us and lifting us upward. The Lady Gaia moves her hands and the ball of energy, with us safe inside, rises rapidly, straight up through the Earth until it emerges in the meadow. Here it hangs for a moment, and we find ourselves once more on solid ground. We realise that it is for us to complete the healing.

Raise your arms and feel the energy gather into a large, spinning cone. Feed some of the energy into your crystal, charging it as a battery that will continue to send out healing energy to the Earth once the ritual ends. Then, together, we send the cone up and out, covering the entire Earth and all her creatures in a blanket of healing and love. See the energy begin the work of restoration, see the Earth recover, and know that it will come to pass.

So mote it be!

Hold this vision for a moment more and then return to normal consciousness. After the ritual place your crystal on your altar or in your garden and keep it sacred.

For us all I bless the chalice and offer it to the Lady Gaia with our love and thanks.

Blessed be!

I shall now begin to close our ritual.

Lady Gaia, we thank thee for thy presence with us this night, for thy gift of the bounty of the Earth and for thy enduring love. Go if you must but know you are welcome to stay if you will. We bid thee Hail and Farewell.

Please close the quarters:

Hail to thee guardians of the East, the Powers of Air.

The inner voice inside us all calls us to partake of our inner wisdom. Let us heed the call. As ye depart to your mighty realms, we bid thee hail and farewell. Harm ye none on your way.

We bid thee hail and farewell.

Hail to thee guardians of the South, the Powers of Fire.

The eternal flame of knowledge and wisdom that burns within us, shows us the way. As ye depart to your mighty realms, we bid thee hail and farewell. Harm ye none on your way.

We bid thee hail and farewell.

Hail to thee guardians of the West, the Powers of Water.

The ever-present flow of water within us, guides us to our inner being. As ye depart to your mighty realms, we bid thee hail and farewell. Harm ye none on your way. We bid thee hail and farewell.

Hail to thee guardians of the North, the Powers of Earth.
The evaluation of life guides us to the caverns of knowledge and wisdom within. As ye depart to your mighty realms, we bid thee hail and farewell. Harm ye none on your way. We bid thee hail and farewell.

By the powers of the four element, of Earth, of Water, of Fire and of Air I release the circle that it be open but forever unbroken and that love stays forever in our hearts

We merry meet and merry part and merry meet again. Blessed be!

Remember to ground and release excess energy.
